PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

On April 21, 2021, Representative Green introduced H.R. 2516, the “Promoting Diversity and Inclusion in Banking Act of 2021”, which would require Federal banking regulators to include a diversity and inclusion component in the CAMELS rating system to evaluate how federally insured depository institutions are promoting diversity and inclusion. Specifically, institutions would be rated on whether they: have policies to encourage diversity and inclusion in their hiring practices; provide training to their employees on diversity and inclusion; and designate an individual to serve as the Diversity and Inclusion Officer (DIO) who reports to the CEO. Depository institutions with more than $1 billion in total assets would be required to establish a committee for diversity and inclusion that holds quarterly meetings with the CEO and DIO.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

Federal banking regulators examine and rate a bank or credit union based on the Uniform Financial Institutions Ratings System (UFIRS), more commonly referred to as the CAMELS rating system. The institution receives a rating from 1 (best) to 5 (worst) across six “CAMELS” components—capital adequacy, asset quality, management, earnings, liquidity, and sensitivity to market risk—as well as a composite rating. While management is rated generally under the current system, management’s approach to diversity and inclusion, such as ensuring its hiring policies encourage diversity and inclusion—is not, even though diverse and inclusive organizations have been found to be more productive and profitable. Relatedly, a lack of diversity poses a safety and soundness risk, as evidenced during the financial crisis when non-diverse institutions made more predatory loans while gender diversity in leadership positions led to “lower levels of non-performing loans” and greater stability during the financial crisis.

Moreover, Section 342 of the Dodd-Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act of 2010 established Offices of Minority and Women Inclusion (OMWI) at various financial regulators, including the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (Fed), Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC), and National Credit Union Administration (NCUA). OMWI Directors are mandated to assess the diversity policies and practices of their regulated entities. In its 2020 annual report to Congress, the FDIC OMWI found that despite having fewer resources, small community banks were incorporating diversity into their workforce practices, and that “more institutions are recognizing the importance of integrating diversity and inclusion into their corporate culture.” Additionally, for those that responded to an NCUA survey, 42% of credit unions have a written diversity and inclusion policy approved by senior leadership; 60% have a senior official focused on diversity and inclusion; and 61% regularly conduct training on equal employment as well as diversity and inclusion. Instead of relying on voluntary industry surveys, this legislation would help ensure depository institutions have policies and practices in place that promote diversity and inclusion.

 - For institutions with total consolidated assets of more than $1,000,000,000, the diversity and inclusion component must also include whether the institution has:
 - Designated an individual to serve as a Diversity and Inclusion officer; and
 - Has established a committee for diversity and inclusion that holds meeting quarterly and that includes the Diversity and Inclusion officer and the CEO.
 - This section also requires the Board of Governors, the Comptroller of the Currency, the Corporation, and the National Credit Union Administration Board to:
 - Assign the most favorable rating based on subsection (a) components; and
 - Exempt institutions from any examination procedures related to subsection (a) components.
- This section also defines depository institution, minority depository institution and makes necessary clerical amendments.”

STATEMENT OF PERFORMANCE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Pursuant to clause (3)(c) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the goals of H.R. 2516 are to require Federal banking regulators to include a diversity and inclusion component in the CAMELS rating system to evaluate how federally insured depository institutions are promoting diversity and inclusion.

NEW BUDGET AUTHORITY AND CBO COST ESTIMATE

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(2) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives and section 308(a) of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, and pursuant to clause 3(c)(3) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives and section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974, the Committee has received the following estimate for H.R. 2516 from the Director of the Congressional Budget Office:

U.S. CONGRESS,

Washington, DC, January 11, 2022.

Hon. MAXINE WATERS,
Chairwoman, Committee on Financial Services,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.

DEAR MADAM CHAIRWOMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 2516, the Promoting Diversity and Inclusion in Banking Act of 2021.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Stephen Rabent.

Sincerely,

PHILLIP L. SWAGEL,
Director.

Under current law, the Federal Reserve, Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), National Credit Union Administration (NCUA), and Office of the Comptroller of the Currency (OCC) supervise depository institutions and evaluate their financial condition and operations under the Uniform Financial Institutions Ratings System (UFIRS). That system assigns composite ratings in six areas to uniformly assess the safety and soundness of financial institutions. H.R. 2516 would direct those agencies to add a new component to the ratings to assess practices aimed at promoting diversity and inclusion.

The operating costs of the FDIC, NCUA, and OCC are classified in the federal budget as direct spending. Using information from some of those agencies, CBO estimates that under the bill administrative costs would total about $1 million annually to update the UFIRS and broaden the scope of financial institution examinations. CBO expects that those activities would require two additional staff members per agency and estimates that gross direct spending would increase by $12 million over the 2022–2031 period. However, the NCUA and OCC collect fees from financial institutions to offset their operating costs; those fees are considered reductions in direct spending. Therefore, CBO estimates, the net effect on direct spending would be $3 million over the 2022–2031 period.

Costs incurred by the Federal Reserve reduce remittances to the Treasury, which are recorded in the budget as revenues. CBO estimates that enacting H.R. 2516 would increase the Federal Reserve's administrative costs by $4 million over the 2022–2031 period, thus decreasing revenues by that amount.

Ratings issued under the UFIRS can affect depository institutions in several ways. For example, banks with a certain rating may qualify for 18-month rather than annual review cycles. In addition, the amount they pay in premiums to the Deposit Insurance Fund depends, in part, on their composite ratings under the UFIRS. However, CBO has no basis to predict how institutions' composite ratings might change under H.R. 2516 or how any resulting changes would affect direct spending or revenues.

If federal financial regulators increased fees to offset the costs associated with implementing the bill, H.R. 2516 would increase the cost of an existing mandate on financial institutions that are required to pay those assessments. CBO estimates that the mandate's cost would be small and fall below the annual threshold established in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act for the private sector ($170 million in 2021, adjusted annually for inflation).

The bill contains no intergovernmental mandates as defined in that act.

The CBO staff contacts for this estimate are Stephen Rabent (for federal costs), Nathaniel Frentz (for federal revenues), and Fiona Forrester (for mandates). The estimate was reviewed by H. Samuel Papenfuss, Deputy Director of Budget Analysis.

COMMITTEE COST ESTIMATE

Clause 3(d)(1) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives requires an estimate and a comparison of the costs that would be incurred in carrying out H.R. 2516. However, clause 3(d)(2)(B) of that rule provides that this requirement does not apply when the committee has included in its report a timely submitted cost estimate of the bill prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office under section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act.

UNFUNDED MANDATE STATEMENT

Pursuant to Section 423 of the Congressional Budget and Impoundment Control Act (as amended by Section 101(a)(2) of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act, Pub. L. 104-4), the Committee adopts as its own the estimate of federal mandates regarding H.R. 2516, as amended, prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office.

ADVISORY COMMITTEE

No advisory committees within the meaning of section 5(b) of the Federal Advisory Committee Act were created by this legislation.

APPLICATION OF LAW TO THE LEGISLATIVE BRANCH

Pursuant to section 102(b)(3) of the Congressional Accountability Act, Pub. L. No. 104-1, H.R. 2516, as amended, does not apply to terms and conditions of employment or to access to public services or accommodations within the legislative branch.

EARMARK STATEMENT

In accordance with clause 9 of rule XXI of the Rules of the House of Representatives, H.R. 2516 does not contain any congressional earmarks, limited tax benefits, or limited tariff benefits as described in clauses 9(e), 9(f), and 9(g) of rule XXI.

DUPLICATION OF FEDERAL PROGRAMS

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(5) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee states that no provision of H.R. 2516 establishes or reauthorizes a program of the Federal Government known to be duplicative of another federal program, a program that was included in any report from the Government Accountability Office to Congress pursuant to section 21 of Public Law 111–139, or a program related to a program identified in the most recent Catalog of Federal Domestic Assistance.
